Detailed Washington County Vote Shows Colonel's Strength

ONE IS UNINSTRUCTED

Davidson to go With James Cunningham to the National Convention

Unofficial returns from all of the 142 precincts of the vote of the primary election Saturday in Washington county do not materially change the results announced Monday.

The results show that Aiken for Congress lost in Washington county by 627 votes. In the district he will be about 2,700 votes behind Matthews. On the legislative ticket Allison, Feeney and Walker, the organization candidates were easy winners. James H. Cunningham, for Roosevelt, and George Davidson, uninstructed, both of Beaver county have won out in the district for national delegates. Owen C. Underwood, Rosevelt was but a short distance behind Davidson and the official count may bring him still closer. James P. Eagleson Taft delegate, was fourth while John Cunningham, the unrecognized Roosevelt candidate, brought up the rear.

The totals in the district are as follows: James Cunningham, 7,885; George Davidson, 6,028; O. C. Underwood, 5,734; J. P. Eagleson, 5,599; John Cunningham, 4,676.

This gives one delegates for Roosevelt and while Davidson was uninstructed, it is understood that he will be for Taft.

The Roosevelt men were well in the lead in the contest for State delegate, five of the colonel's followers and one lone Taft man being chosen. It may require the official count to determine the identity of this Taft man but the unofficial figures indicate it will be Frank R. Colvin. The five Roosevelt men elected are Frank M. Courson, H. H. Huston, Theodore Landefeld, Julius P. Miller, Jr. and County Controller John H. Moffitt.

JEWELRY WORTH SMALL FORTUNE TAKEN FROM HOTEL

Jewelry valued at $1,500 was stolen fram hotel of William Seanor, Fifth avenue, Monessen, some time Sunday night. Police in various places have been asked to apprehend William Stein, alias Miller, a porter employed at the hotel who disappeared. It is believed by Mr. Seanor that the porter can throw some light on the disappearance of the jewelry which consisted of a diamond brooch, surrounded with pearls; a diamond ring set with two diamonds of one caret each; one ring set with a one-caret diamond; one opal ring surrounded with diamonds and one five tone diamond ring.

Returning to Mother Land

Many From Charleroi Vicinity Take Trips Across the Sea

A large number of people of foreign parentage are taking advantage of the suspension of the coal mines in the Pittsburg district to visit their friends abroad. Since the middle of March from the Charleroi vicinity there have left for various parts of Europe over 100 persons, according to Frank Riva a local steamship agent. Most of the number will visit in continental Europe, although there are many going direct to England.

GRANGE MEMBERS TO HELP

Curb Market Idea Meets With Ready Response Among Growers

WILL ACT OFFICIALLY

Growers and agriculturalists who are members of Fallowfield Grange are taking great interest in the proposal of Charleroi people to establish a curb market here, and it is stated will be ready to fall in line with the movement as soon as arrangements are made. At the next meeting of the grange which will be in a few days, the scheme will be taken up and discussed by the grange. This is the result of a meeting held last Saturday night by a number of grange members. The meeting was attended by Frank Bly and Dr. C. C. Wright, of Charleroi who have been working in the interests of the curb market.

At the meeting Saturday the plan for selling produce at the curb was explained by the Charleroi men, although no action was taken endorsing the idea by the members present, practically every one expressed himself in favor of it.

Two Take Examinations.

Two men took the examinations held here Saturday by Civil Service Clerk W. E. McFall for rural delivery carriers. One was a Mr. Hess, from Scenery Hill and the other a Mr. Taylor from Centerville. The examinations were on spelling, correcting addresses, arithmetic, composition, and copying from plain copy.

BIGGEST SHIP EVER FLOATED GOES DOWN

Between 1,400 and 1,800 Lives Sacrificed When Titanic Hits Iceberg—Some of Drowned Ones Have Friends Here

Carrying to a watery grave 630 of her 1,300 passengers and crew of 860 the steamer Titanic of the White Star line has gone down some 500 miles off Cape Race. On its maiden trip across the Atlantic this $10,000,000 vessels, the biggest ever built, rammed into an iceberg and before aid summoned by wireless could reach her, had sunk. Latest reports state that of the total number of persons on board only 670 were saved, the most of these being women and children.

While so far as can be learned there was no one from Washington county aboard the magnificent steamer when it went down, there were friends of Charleroi and Washington county people thought to have been drowned. Consequently the local population mourns with the rest of the world.

It is supposed that the steamer was endeavoring to make a record trip across the Atlantic when it struck the iceberg. She was a day ahead of her schedule. By the headon collision, the steamer's forward plates were completely wrecked, and a gaping wound opened below her water line, letting the water into her forward compartments. The Virginian and the Titantic's mate, the Olympic were the first to be notified of the disaster by wireless and hastened toward the doomed vessel. The Carpathia however was the first to arrive on the scene. All arrived too late to be of much assistance. Only the comparative few who could be packed into the life boats were saved.

Aboard the vessel were many millionaires and their families. Among those believed to have met death was Lucien Smith of Uniontown, and possibly his bride of two months, the daughter of Congressman James Hughes of Huntingdon, W. Va. Mr. Smith is known to several here. Among others thought to be numbered among the lost are Col. Archibald Butt, President Taft's military aide, who was returning from an official trip abroad, Mr. and Mrs. John Jacob Astor, and several others whose names are more or less familiar in monied circles.

WILL RUN TRAINS UP YOUGH VALLEY

Through Service Not to Come Through Monongahela Valley

CLAIM HEAVY GRADE

According to the reports among officials of the Pittsburg and Lake Erie railroad no through trains over the Western Maryland lines will come up the Monongahela valley, and through trains from Cumberland to Connellsville will enter Pittsburg by the way of the Youghiogheny branch cutting off a distance of 12 miles and doing away with the heavy grade that would be encountered between Fayette City and Connellsville.

It is stated that the extension of the Monongahela railroad from Martin to the state line is to be completed by June 1, when a direct outlet to the seaboard will be provided by the means of the connecting link from Fayette City with the new Western Maryland from Connellsville to Cumberland, which will be opened next week.

Berkeley and Cooper or P. A. Johns Elected -- Former Charlero Man Wins

ASSEMBLYMEN NAMED

Among those victorious at the primaries in Fayette county Saturday was H. A. "Bert" Chalfant, formerly of Charleroi. He was a candidate for Assembly on the Republican ticket and won out. The other two winners on the Republican ticket for assembly were Carroll and Conwell. For national delegate Harvey M. Berkley, Roosevelt delegate has been elected. It may take the official count to determine whether Peter A. Johns, a Roosevelt man or former congressman Allen F. Cooper, a Taft man is elected, although recent returns point favorably to the former. Josiah V. Thompson, a Taft man, has been defeated for delegate. For Congress Col. Thomas S. Crago of Waynesburg has defeated Charles F. Hood of Connellsville by a big margin.

CONTROLLER JUSTIFIED DECLARES THE COURT

Did Right in Refusing to Honor Poor Director's Warrant

WAS SALARY DISPUTE

Buchanan Not Affected by New Law Increasing Pay of Officers

That County Controller John H. Moffitt was justified in refusing to honor a warant carrying an increase in salary for Poor Director R. C. Buchanan on the grounds that he was not affected by a new law increasing the salaries of the more recently elected poor directors, was in effect the decision of the courts in an opinion handed down Monday evening. The opinion was in the suit in equity brought in the name of the Commonwealth by R. W. Wolfe H. D. Brownelle and R. C. Buchanan, poor directors against the controller to compel him to honor certain requisitions for the use of the county and children's home, including that of an increase in Mr. Buchanan's salary.

In addition to sustaining Controller Moffitt in his action, the court took occasion in a lengthy review of the case to suggest that there be harmony rather than friction between the officials concerned with the homes.

The matter was threshed out before Judges McElvaine and Taylor last Friday. Guy Moffitt and Acheson and Crumrine represented the controller and Washington attorneys the poor directors.

The court gave the following conclusions in the case in summing up its opinion:

"First—That a director of the poor of Washington county is a public officer within the meaning of Section 13, Article 3, of the constitution.

"Second—That R. C. Buchanan has been in office before the passage of the Act of 1911, which increased the salary of the office, was not entitled to the increase, but as to him the act was inoperative and his salary should be paid under the law as it was at and before the time he was inducted into office.

"Third—The directors of the poor having incorporated a claim for a month's salary to R. C. Buchanan greater than that to which he was entitled and not offering to strike off that claim and take warrant for those things that the controller could approve, justified the controller in refusing to issue the warrant asked for."

WILL DROP CASE OF DONOVAN

District Miners Will Not Hear Affair of Former Officer

CHARGES AGAINST HIM

Former Secretary-Treasurer Tim Donovan's case, growing out of his suspension from office last winter, was quickly disposed of Monday in the convention of District No. 5, United Mine Workers, in Labor Temple in Pittsburg. The grievance committee recommended that as the former district secretary-treasurer had made no charges to the district executive board, the convention should take no action. A roll call was necessary and the committee's stand was upheld by a vote of 84 to 77.

A new election for board member from sub-district No. 1 was ordered. F. P. Hanaway of Noblestown was declared elected, but complaint was made against the pre-election elimination of Andrew Pusker of Imperial. District officials declared they acted in accordance with the constitution, as Puskar had been nominated by local unions not in good standing. The convention overrode the district officials and the latter, through Vice President Van Bittner, promised an appeal to the international board.

Half of the court costs growing out of the arrests of members at the Chamouni mine, California, Pa., will be paid by the district organization, the convention decided. The men were accused of inciting to riot in a strike. The Court assessed them for half the costs, $250.

FAIR RULINGS.

It may be a matter of gratification to the people of Washington county to know that our courts have made some notable decisions lately which have attracted State and Nation-wide attention, and which have not only been upheld in popular opinion but have served as precedents in the guidance of other courts. One of these was the decision in regard to the printing of the Presidential preference after the names of candidates for State delegates on the primary ballots. The Washington county court made the first decision in the State covering this matter, and the fact that they gave it a liberal construction rather than basing it on technical grounds, displayed the broad and comprehensive grasp of the meaning and intent of the law in the interest of the public. The fact that all other courts that passed upon this question made the Washington county decision a precedent, conveys a compliment to the fairness and integrity of our county courts.

Another case that has been decided upon its constitutional merits is the one just made which sustains the contention that a county official can not have his salary raised while in office, on the technical claim that because his action is subservient to other county officials he is not a county official proper, and that the constitutional interposition would not apply. The county court ruled that the poor directors are county officials proper and that as such must be governed by the constitutional requirements that apply to all such officials.

It is this spirit of fairness and an evident desire to interpret the law to its fullest extent in the interests of the public, which has raised our county courts to their present high standing. The disposition of some of the courts throughout the country to construe the law to apply to special interests and cases has had a tendency to place the judiciary in disrepute with the public, and to create a clamor for the judicial recall. It can be truthfully stated that this tendency is entirely lacking in our courts and the decisions and rulings of the latter are everywhere generally accepted with confidence and respct by the public.

AN OPPORTUNITY.

The statement that the Pittsburg & Lake Erie Railroad company will not run tidewater trains through the Monongahela valley in its through passenger service between Pittsburg and Baltimore over the Western Maryland extension, will be a disappointment to the business and commercial interests of this section. While there may be some natural obstacles in the way of distance and grade, the greater advantages in the way of passenger traffic would seem to make the Monongahela valley route preferable to that of the Youghiogheny valley. The populous centers of the former section all the way up from McKeesport to Fayette City certainly affords a better field for passenger traffic than the territory of the Youghiogheny, which between McKeesport and Connellsville, which is devoid of large towns and centers of population.

It is possible that if the business interests of the Monongahela valley interest themselves in the matter the Pittsburg & Lake Erie people might be induced to reconsider their decision on the choice of their tidewater route if it has already been made. If not, then it is all the more important that efforts should be made to induce the company to select this route. A direct pasenger service from this section to tidewater in the east will be a big business advantage in many ways and Business Men's Association and Boards of Trade of the various towns along the valley should co-operate in the manner and make every effort possible to secure this route for the Monongahela valley.

PICKED UP IN PASSING

That newspaper advertising pays when the advertiser has something that interests the public or what the public wants, is evidenced by the number of depositors secured in the Christmas Savings Fund scheme instituted by the Charleroi Savings and Trust company on April 1. With no other advertising except through the Charleroi Mail and the Charleroi Mirror, several hundred accounts have been secured and they're still coming.

The scheme is a most unique one, but at the same time it is so practical and efficient that it instantly appeals to all who are inclined to be thrifty. It is literally a scheme for saving pennies for Christmas, except that like some kinds of euchre it is progressive. The depositor starts out on the first of April by depositing one cent, which is followed up the next week by the deposit of two cents, and three cents the next week, four the next, and so on for thirty-six (36) weeks. This period brings the deposit up to within two weeks of Christmas, when the Trust company mails a check for the amount to the depositor, plus three per cent interest for the average time the money has been in the bank. This gives the depositor a lump sum just before Christmas to devote to shopping, which is usually a most welcome acquisition.

There are three kinds of accounts involved in this scheme. One is to start with one cent deposit, one with two cents and another with five cents. This is as high as the accounts run. Those who start with one cent and keep up their deposits will reveive at the end of the 36 weeks $6.66 in cash, in addition to the accrued interest. The two cent account will bring the amount in hand for the holiday shopping up to $13.32, and the five cent account will amount to $33.30, plus accrued interest. Of course the deposits become greater each week as the time progresses, the previous week's deposit being augmented each week by the amount of the account—the one, two, or five cents, whichever acount has been opened. They payment for the last week's deposit of the one cent account is 36 cents; of the two cent account, 72 cents; of the five cent account, $1.80.

It may not be realized that this scheme has a public bearing that is beneficial in three ways. It benefits the individual by giving him more money to satisfy his desires in the matter of Christmas shopping than he would ordinarily have; it benefits the bank and incidentally the public by giving the former a greater volume of currency to use in its business, which otherwise would be in children's savings banks and in the pockets of the people, and consequently idle and unproductive in a business way, and confers a benefit to the local trades people by turning loose in the holiday season a big volume of money which otherwise in most cases would have been dissipated because the pennies were considered too small an amount to deposit in any bank.

As to the aggregate amount, the number of accounts already received by the Charleroi Savings and Trust company indicate that the lump sum disbursed will run up into five figures. It is a beneficial scheme all around, and one that is easy for most people to carry out.

SEVEN YEARS OF MISERY

How Mrs. Bethune was Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Sikeston, Mo. — "For seven years I suffered everything. I was in bed for four or five days at a time every month, and so weak I could hardly walk. I had cramps, backache and headache, and was so nervous and weak that I dreaded to see anyone or have anyone move in the room. The doctors gave me medicine to ease me at those times, and said that I ought to have an operation. I would not listen to that, and when a friend of my husband's told him about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and what it had done for his wife, I was willing to take it. Now I look the picture of health and feel like it, too. I can do all my own housework, work in the garden and entertain company and enjoy them, and can walk as far as any ordinary woman, any day in the week. I wish I could talk to every suffering woman and girl, and tell them what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me." — Mrs. DEMA BETHUNE, Sikeston, Mo.

Remember, the remedy which did this was Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

It has helped thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, that bearing-down feeling, indigestion, and nervous prostration, after all other means have failed. Why don't you try it?

BEING BRISK A GOOD HABIT

Children Should Be Taught Quickness in Running Errands and in Dressing Themselves.

If a child is allowed to acquire a slow, dawdling manner when told to do any particular duty it will be found very difficult to effect a cure, and this means a serious hindrance to success in after years.

Teach them while very young to do everything promptly and to finish what they have commenced. If they are sent on a message make them to clearly understand that they must go direct to the shop and not loiter on the way. Children may be seen at any time carrying a message and lingering to look at everything on the way.

I often wonder at what time the poor mother gets her messages home, when I see a child loitering about instead of walking along briskly. Quickness in dress, also, should be insisted upon. If too young to dress themselves they should be taught to keep still while the mother or sister puts on their clothing.

At a later age forbid any running about the house until fully dressed—and quickly dressed. Some little maidens are rather fond of looking in the glass while dressing and this is a habit which should be at once repressed. It not only encourages vanity but it causes the child to waste much valuable time.

Because of You.

Because of you, dear heart,
I deemed all human creatures true;
And to my happiness there seemed no end,
Because of you.

The robins sang so light and free,
As from the garden to their nest they flew,
I sank with them a year today,
Because of you.

A year ago today—alas, dear heart,
You loved me well, and that I knew,
And yet today my heart is lone and drear
Because of you.

DESIGNS THAT ARE NOVEL

Japanese Scene on Handkerchiefs Proves Popular—Sheer Materials Are Also Greatly Favored.

Among the latest novelties in handkerchiefs are those with a Japanese scene sketched in one corner with a very fine silk thread. The picture is about two inches long and one inch wide, with Japanese pagodas, blossoms, and branches of trees outlined in pale pink, blue, red or yellow. The sketch is not on the handkerchief, but is on a separate piece of the material and appliqued.

Handkerchiefs of Madeira embroidery are popular. They are embroidered in colors as well as white. Some have tiny scallops edged in blue, pink, lavender, or green; others have a sprig of flowers embroidered in one corner as well as the scalloped edge.

Colors either in polka dots or as narrow borders, are used on most of the new handkerchiefs. Some have colored centers with white polka dots and others have colored dots on the white centers with a very narrow border in color. It is the fashion to carry with a linen suit a handkerchief with a touch of color matching the suit.

While we still see laces, embroideries, and the like, yet the very neatest patterns are of the sheerest material imaginable, delicately turned on the edges and plain hemstitched or trimmed with very narrow lace. Monogram handkerchiefs with nun eyelet initials, daintily worked are very attractive.

Fine, sheer handkerchiefs are easily made at home and cost much less than when bought at the store. Instead of hemming the edges they should be rolled French fashion. Dampen the thumb and first finger of the left hand and roll as finely as possible, as you continue to sew. The face edging or insertion that you trim should be sewed on with the same stitch that sews the roll. In other words, the roll and edging are sewed at the same time. It makes a prettier, more delicate finish than a hem, as it is almost invisible. Such handkerchiefs may be trimmed as simply or as elaborately as you wish.

Real Angel of Death.

Most of us are familiar with the beautiful and artistic conception of French, wherein a young sculptor who is plying his magic chisel upon a block of stone and summoning from the snowy depths of the marble the dream face of his soul's idea, is gently touched by the wistful-eyed Angel of Death and the skillful arm forever stayed. The whole creation is marvelously beautiful and the world is better for its birth. Nevertheless, it is allegorical and misleading.

The real Angel of Death in the case of the thin-faced sculptor was not a sad-visaged maiden of classical profile. In all probability it was a minute, rod like organism floating amid motes of dust and known to scientists as the "bacteria tuberculosis." The writer does not want to be a shatterer of ideals, but the sooner such poetic notions of death are done away with and the mass of the people educated in a common sense way to the dangers of dust and bacteria, the better it will be for humanity in general.—J. G. Ogden in October Popular Mechanics.

Where Wesley Wrote Hymns.

The Rev J. H. Wicksteed, vicar of Bexley, Kent, England, has presented to the Wesleyan Methodists of Gravesend and Dartford circuit a tree from the vicarage garden, a sapling of the old oak under whose branches John and Charles Wesley, with George Whitefield, often met in friendly conference.

It is believed that Charles Wesley composed some of his hymns under its shadow, and John, in his diary of September 22, 1740, writes: "I went to Mr. Piers, the vicar of Bexley, where in the mornings and evenings I expounded the sermon on the mount and had full use during the rest of the day for business of other kinds." He was there again Saturday, December 2, 1749, "and preached about 11."

MUSIC AS CURATIVE AGENT

Singing Teaches Correct Breathing and Lively Waltzes Have Good Effects on Melancholia Patients.

Two English physicians of prominence have recently asserted that the exercise given to the lungs in singing is valuable in the prevention and cure of diseases of those organs. They consider that increased professional recognition should be extended to this special therapeutic agency, as advisable in cases where pulmonary consumption is feared.

Singing involves correct nasal breathing, and this means that the air admitted to the lungs is practically germ free, and also the adequate development of the upper portions of the respiratory passages. Another effect is the maintenance of the elasticity and proper expansion of the chest. The necessary breathing exercises mean increased functional activity of the lungs. Then, there is the improved oxygenation of the blood, which singing necessarily promotes.

As we know, most singers and also those musicians who perform on wind instruments are a healthy looking lot. Not many years from now music will be recognized as a most valuable curative agent, especially in cases of insanity or morbidity. What tired, overwrought, distressed man or woman does not know the value of music. How many beautiful stories could be told of the power of music to sustain and restrain?

One of the greatest scientists living has testified that he was once kept from thoughts of despair and suicide by suddenly hearing in the next house someone playing Rubenstein's Melody in F.

In the Croydon Mental hospital, London, waltz music—particularly the bright, musical comedy pieces—is used in effecting a cure for melancholia patients.

Revenge for Her Sex.

Many men make a business of marrying women, securing their money and then deserting them. One woman in New England has taken it upon herself to avenge the wrongs of her sex in this line. This woman, who is described as "young, handsome and winning," is charged with having "flitted" from one military post to another, making her choice from the eligible young officers, captivating them, becoming the bride of each in turn, securing all the money possible from each and then "flitting" again. She has shown that the opposite sex has no monopoly in this sort of business. But whether she is actuated by desire to prove such condition or by purposes of gain is not made evident.—Chicago Journal.

The "Civil War."

Hereafter it may be officially "the Civil war" instead of "the war of the rebellion," if an amendment to a bill adopted by the house of representatives at Washington shall go through. The action is not of much moment one way or another. The American public have dropped into the habit of calling the great struggle the Civil war, and no one will seriously oppose the new usage in congressional enactments. In fact, the change is in its way significant of the better feeling and stronger nationality that have succeeded those four years of bloody strife.

Plea for Lives of Birds.

"One billion dollar loss each year is suffered by farmers and fruit growers of this country by reason of the reckless and senseless destruction of bird life," declared the president of the League of American Sportsmen, Pa. He is a recognized authority on the subject of American game and declares that reliable statistics show that the crop values of the country are $1,000,000,000 a year less than they would be if birds were as plentiful as formerly, so that more insect pests would be destroyed.

Laments Forgotten Art.

We have a great many amateur huntsmen nowadays, and not all of them understand how to blow a horn, or have the knowledge of the few calls which are in these degenerate times used in hunting. Even among professional huntsmen the science of the hunting horn is much neglected.—London Illustrated Sporting and Dramatic News.

Unmarried Women in Cities.

In Chicago, out of every 1,000 women in the age period from 25 to 29, at the last count, there were 314 who were unmarried. In Denver there were 321. In Manhattan and the Bronx there were 356. In Minneapolis there were 369. In Philadelphia there were 387.

To Brighten Old Gilt.

Old gilt, such as the gilded frames of chairs or old picture frames and mirrors, if they do not require regilding entirely, may be brightened by using an excellent mixture of three ounces of white of egg and an ounce of chloride of potash or soda. This should be painted over the surface with a feather or a water-color paint brush.

The Model Hired Girl.

The following testimonial was given to a servant girl: "This is to certify that the bearer has been in my service one year less 11 months. During this time I found her to be diligent at the back door, temperate at her work, prompt at excuses, amiable toward young men, faithful to her sweethearts and honest when everything was safe under lock and key."

COSTA RICAN IS DIGNIFIED

He Loves Pomp and Ceremony and His Formal Banquets Are Distressingly Solemn.

"The Costa Rican loves pomp and ceremony. He plays with diplomacy, and from force of habit strikes a threatening attitude toward the head of the government, whoever he may be, but never carries it so far as to provoke a revolution, as is done in the sister republics.

"He is a perfect picture of the posing hero in the comic opera, never yet having been conquered by his enemy, but always on guard," writes a woman correspondent of Health Culture. "The old Spanish hidalgoes who warred with the Central American states did not consider the country around San Jose (reached then by a bridle path over the mountains) worth fighting for.

"So they left the natives in possession and the consequence is that the peon, or barefooted native, driving his yoke or diminutive oxen, is nobody's slave. He owns his mule and cart, his little patio of land and farmhouse. The tax gatherer has no place there, therefore when you meet him reincarnated as the dignified merchant he is a most self-respecting citizen.

"A dinner of fifty covers, with three kinds of wine, was tendered a foreign diplomat during our stay at the Hotel Imperial. When they were all seated and the dinner well on we gained a coign of vantage where we were not seen, and I aver that a woman's suffrage luncheon in New York city was a hilarious affair in comparison to it. Yet nearly every man present had been educated in Europe.

"At Christmas time, during the ten days of fete, they enter heartily into the spirit of the carnival, and then fold themselves away for the rest of the year."

Climate Failed—Medicine Cured

It has been absolutely shown that rest, fresh air, and good food do help many persons suffering from Tuberculosis. But, to be really honest, it must be admitted that the disease is seldom more than "arrested." Something more is needed.

Eckman's Alterative is a medicine made for the cure of Tuberculosis. It has cured this disease again and again. Often these cures have been effected where the surroundings were not ideal, where no intelligent care was taken of the patient, where money was scarce; good food and [illegible]—yet cures resulted. Now we argue and urge that Eckman's Alterative should be used in every case of Tuberculosis, in addition to good, nourishing food and fresh air, which we all need.

The facts—the evidence of cures that have been made—are interesting reading. A remarkable cure follows.—Weldon, Ill.

"Gentlemen:—Through Eckman's Alterative I have been saved from a premature grave, and, feeling that I might benefit suffering humanity, I take pleasure in writing you a brief history of my sickness, which you are at liberty to use.

"On December 14, 1904, I was taken with Typhoid Pneumonia. My lungs became very much affected; my sputum was examined and Tuberculous Bacilli were found. On February 21st, 1905, was advised to go to Fort Worth, Texas. While there an abscess in my right lung broke and discharged. I grew worse, and became very much emaciated. My physician informed me that I must go to Colorado as quickly as possible. I left Texas June 1st, and arrived in Canon City June 3d very feeble. After being there two weeks, my physician informed me that nothing could be done, as my case was hopeless. Three weeks later I returned home, weighing 103 pounds, the doctor having given me no assurance of reaching there alive.

"On July 11, 1905, I began taking Eckman's wonderful remedy for Consumption, it having been highly recommended. Today I weigh 158 pounds. I am stout and well and can do any kind of work about my grain elevator. I have not an ache nor pain in my lungs, eat well, sleep well, and never felt better. I would be glad if every person afflicted with Tuberculosis took Eckman's cure."

(Signed Affidavit) ARTHUR WEBB.

Eckman's Alterative is effective in Bronchitis, Asthma, Hay Fever, Throat and Lung Troubles, and in upbuilding the system. Does not contain poisons, opiates or habit-forming drugs. Ask for booklet of cured cases and write to Eckman Laboratory, Philadelphia, Pa., for more evidence. For sale by all leading druggists and Brain Drill With Fingers.

Brain drill with the fingers is the latest recommendation to those who would be efficient. It is not a system of message that is recommended, but simply the regular use of the hands. Tie knots, sew, do fretwork, anything and everything, in fact, that calls for manual skill you want to have an active, resourceful and versatile brain, people are told. The truth of this statement is said to lie in the fact that in every manual act the hand is directed by the brain. Every act reacts upon the brain, strengthening and stimulating it.

The Moon on Fish.

A recent report of the Scotch fishery board mentioned a curious habit which, according to fishermen, is associated with fish; the phases of the moon, it was asserted, have a very direct connection with the willingness of fish to be netted.

To test this theory statistics were obtained of the catch of herrings from 1860 to 1900, with the result that the biggest catches were found to have coincided with the new moon and the smallest with full moon. The report suggested that a full moon enabled the nets to be seen much more easily than at times of new moon or the crescent phase or that the tides, which vary with the lunar phases, were possible factors in the matter.—Westminister Gazette.

WHY WOMEN GO TO PRISON

Most of Them Err Through Idleness, Unwise Marriages, Ignorance, Youth and Friendliness.

The causes that bring women to prison are seldom of personal or even of direct moral significance. Women seldom use their wits to break the law, nor do most of their crimes demand a quick intelligence. They are in the main the result of a lack of training in trades, inconsidered marriages, ignorance, youth, friendlessness, the general unguided condition of girls; non-employment, low wages, overcrowding in tenements, nervous tension, and the high-pressure life of the average female factory employe. These and other like causes produce the so-called artificial offenses, such as inebriety, unruliness and minor breaches of the law which are mostly the result of overstrain. It has often been said that the barometer of crime rises as that of prosperity falls, and this is particularly true as regards the crimes of women. The thousands of women factory workers in every manufacturing city are never more than a few days from actual want. Given a period of overproduction or a depression in trade, and the women's prisons fill with these despairing, idle workers. In New England, when the factories are running with a full force of operatives, there is a decided slump in the prison population, for all goes well with even these weaker spirits so long as they earn enough to eat every day and have a place to sleep every night.—From "The Care of Women in State Prisons," by Jeanne Robert, in the American Review of Reviews.

An Englishman's Retort.

He had just arrived from old England and his friend, a prominent clubman, was showing him the city. In our suburbs they noticed a neatly fixed-up candy store, which greatly surprised the stranger, and he inquired how that could be made to pay. The clubman remarked in answer:

"Why, I don't believe he can make his salt there."

The Englishman seemed bewildered, and adjusting his monocle, said:

"How strange! Do you expect a man in this country to make salt in a sweet shop?"

Haw! Haw!

Shifting Ministers.

One of Wesley's reasons for shifting his preachers every three years was avowedly that they might be able to preach the same sermon over again to different congregations. He knew by experience the difficulty of sermon making. After a few weeks, he said, a preacher cannot find matter for preaching every morning and evening, nor will the people come to hear him, whereas if he never stays more than a fortnight in one place he will find plenty of matter, and the people will hear him gladly. I know that were I to preach one whole year in one place I should preach both myself and my congregation to sleep.

OLD FASHIONED FAMILY PEW

In That Rested the Strength of the Church, and It Should Be Restored.

One sometimes hears a deal of nonsense about the danger of creating a prejudice against religion in the mind of a child by making him attend church once a week. The danger would seem to be about one-tenth as great as that of arousing a prejudice against education by sending him to school twice a day. In both cases the remedy lies in the good sense of the parents and their estimate of the value of religion and education carefully instilled into the child's mind.

The strength of the church has been in the old-fashioned pew, with father at one end and mother at the other, and a stairway of more or less restless children. From that pew have gone out the upright, devout, consecrated men and women who have loved the church and maintained her worship and done her work in their several generations. For the sake of the church, and especially for the sake of the children, let it be restored.

If it be impossible for the children to attend both Sunday school and the church service, this writer would by all means teach them the catechism at home and bring them to church that they may learn to worship God in the congregation of his people.—Southern Churchman.

Valuable Jamaican Woods.

The most valuable of the Jamaican woods are the yaca, the bully tree, ironwood, hahoe, juniper, cedar, mahogany, lignum vitae, ebony, fiddlewood, yoke, prickly yellow, broad leaf, soapwood, cashew and calabash. Hardwood is used principally for railway sleepers, telegraph poles and fence posts, cedars used chiefly for native shingles and furniture, and other woods are used in building houses in the highlands. Unfortunately the streams are not large enough to log them to the coast, but there is no reason why portable engines and sawmills should not be utilized so as to turn these woods into the market.

WILL PROTEST AGAINST CLOSING UP OF STREET

Council of Opinion Bridge Building Should Not Stop Traffic

TO PREPARE ORDINANCE

Action Taken Favorable to Curb Market--Much Business at Ajourned Meeting

Whether or not McKean avenue can rightfully be closed up during the construction of the bridge over Maple Creek between Charleroi and Speers borough, without another method of crossing the creek being provided is a question that will be investigated by council. Work has been started on the new bridge by contractors for the county and it is impossible to get from here to Speers by the McKean avenue route. At an adjourned meeting of council Tuesday evening the matter was taken up. The county commissioners will likely be conferred with.

A committee consisting of J. B. Schafer and Frank Bly, of the Charleroi Business Men's Association was present in regard to the curb market scheme proposed. They stated that the Fallowfield Grange would take up the matter in earnest. Council instructed its ordinance committee to draw up an ordinance for the regulation of the curb market. This committee will meet with a committee from the Business Men's Association to frame a suitable statute.

Former Patrolman George McEldowney was awarded the contract for gathering and disposing of garbage, the term of the contract to be from May 1 to December 31, 1913.

A number of grievances were heard, most of them concerning sewering and grading. Property holders want sewers for their property along Prospect and Lookout avenue on Twelfth and Thirteenth streets. Installing the sewers, reported Borough Engineer Alexander Gray, would be a big job. Property owners along Cherry alley, between Third and Fourth street asked for a grade of the alley and the borough engineer was instructed to prepare it for them.

VanVoorhis & Kinder were granted permission to build a driveway for the garage they are now building on McKean avenue.

W. A. Seay was elected borough electrician to take the place of Geo. Leith, resigned.

Property holders along Seventh and Eighth streets, between Fallowfield and Washington avenues are to be notified to lay their sidewalks. These streets were both paved last summer.

President W. R. Gaut was in the chair and members of council present were: W. H. Calvert, D. R. Duvall, Dr. A. O. Davis, Oscar C. Linn, and Frank Riva.

BONDS DISPOSED OF BY SCHOOL DISTRICT

North Charleroi Issue First in State to be Sold Under the New School Code-- Cleveland Firm Buyer

The school district of North Charleroi through their solicitor, David M. McCloskey, Tuesday sold to the Western Reserve Investment company of Cleveland, Ohio, an issue of $24,000 school bonds. This is said to be the first issue marketed under the requirements of the new School Code. As the code may very soon be declared to be unconstitutional bond buyers are of the opinion that this issue may have the distinction of being the only one under the code. Numerous complications and technicalities had to be overcome.

Another remarkable feature about the disposal of this issue is that it was passed upon directly and indirectly by some of the most eminent attorneys in the State, and by the counsel of some of the leading bond buyers in oter States.

ECHO DONOVAN AFFAIR

"Rump" Session Held and Telegram is Sent to National Miners Leader

President John P. White, of the United Mine Workers of America has been asked to come to Pittsburg to take charge of the Pittsburg district convention. Action was taken after adjournment Tuesday by a certain element of delegates to call President White to the convention. He was wired that President Feehan refused to preside in a fair and impartial manner.

The trouble arose over the settlement of the case against Timothy Donovan. Donovan had been suspended as secretary-treasurer being charged with certain violations. President Feehan made an attempt to quietly settle the affair. Taking advantage of such action on his part, many delegates made charges against the district leader charging him with injustice, saying he imposed gag rule because Donovan had turned to be a supporter of Michael Halapy, Feehan's opponent. There was an uproar at the time of adjornment.

About 70 delegates got together in a caucus and over half of the 200 delegates remained as unlookers.

This meeting presided over by E. D. Reed of Brownsville as chairman, appointed the following committees to draft a telegram to President White: Alexander Susnar, Ellsworth; William Hines, Fayette City, and E. S. McCullough, Monongahela, all Halapy men and it is said, Socialists.

MAKING PROGRESS.

The conference between a citizen's committee and members of a neighboring grange Saturday night relative to the establishment of a curb market for Charleroi the coming season marks a step toward the establishment of this important economic nature in our midst. While nothing definite in the way of action was attained at the conference, progress was made in the way of information and a more definite understanding of the project by the parties concerned.

This, in connection with the fact that council at its meeting last evening directed that an ordinance be drawn up for the regulation of a curb market, is another step in the direction of this feature, which if established will be of inestimable benefit to all. The project is in a fair way to materialize, and all that is necessary to make it a success is the hearty co-operation of both producer and consumer. Everybody can help the project along and all should lend every assistance possible. It will be a go if all will work together.

ARE FIGHTING HARDER.

Col. Roosevelt and his friends seem to have made a clean sweep at the Pennsylvania primaries on Saturday last. The adherents of President Taft were naturally greatly surprised at the clean sweep made by Col. Roosevelt, but they were by no means overwhelmed. It is claimed on authority that the result of the Pennsylvania primaries will not guarantee the nomination of Col. Roosevelt at the Republican national convention. The Taft followers insist that the result will not even force a compromise candidate into the field.

It is conceded that Saturday's primaries advances Col. Roosevelt's chances, however. He now has 116 delegates counted up for him while the Taft followers count 326 delegates for the President. It will require but one delegate out of every three hereafter to be chosen to give the President a safe majority in the Chicago convention and his friends are confident that he will not only secure that proposition of the delegates yet to be elected but will at least divide the number equally with Col. Roosevelt.

The Taft adherents are insisting that Col Roosevelt did not go into the fight for a third term. That they contend is too rediculous even for the Colonel. They say the purpose is to prevent the renomination of the President of possible or to defeat the Republican party if the effort to prevent a renomination should fail. The Taft people have gotten into the fight for delegates with much energy since the Pennsylvania primaries. They are more hopeful now of the President's renomination than they were before the lines were so definitely drawn by the Roosevelt people.

PICKED UP IN PASSING

Old-timers, in discussing the aftermath of the primary election Saturday recall the early days of Charleroi when for several years the two parties were about evenly divided in town, and there was a red-hot fight for political control at every election. Thomas B. Hastings, one of the prominent contractors of this section of the State, was very active then as a Democratic leader, and under his guidance his party was always able to give a good account of itself at the polls. In the little confab mentioned Tom tells how he pulled one over on George S. Might at one of the elections.

Mr. Might had come to town just previous to the election and opened a restaurant. Mr. Hastings, who was contracting in Charleroi at the time, was boarding with Mr. Might. When the latter came to vote the election board, which was then the township board, did not know him, and demanded that he get some one to vouch for him. Mr. Hastings was standing by, and Mr. Might who was a Republican said:

"That's easy. Here, Tom come and vouch for me so that I can get my vote in."

"Let's see, what is your name?" asked Tom, affecting the air of a stranger.

"Aw, hurry up and quit kidding," said Might. "I'm in a hurry to get back."

"Live here?" again queried Tom.

"Come on, come on," insisted Mr. Might impatiently, 'or you fellows won't get any supper if I don't get back soon."

"I don't know you," said Tom in so much seriousness that the board took his statement for gospel truth. "I never saw you before. I don't believe you've any right to vote here."

And vote he didn't until about 5 o'clock in the evening when some good Republican appeared who was acquainted with the board and vouched for the impatient voter.

A local pastor was called up by telephone from Monongahela the other day in regard to some church matters. As frequently happens the telephone was the source of trouble. After the usual greeting of the person who called and the divine, central broke in on the minister's line and said:

"Do you want the brewery?"

"No, thank you very much, replied the minister. "I don't think I could use it."

Ingenious Spider Web.

Spiders have a number of ingenious ways of alluring and catching their prey. A writer describes an American spider which haunts evergreen trees, and snares its dinner by means of a kind of lasso. The web of the spider is triangular in form. Two corners of the triangle are attached to twigs, but the other corner, which ends in a single thread, is held by the spider, perched on a neighboring twig. When a fly strikes the web the spider loosens his hold and the elastic threads instantly entangle the victim.

DO YOU know of anyone who is old enough to read, who has not seen that sign at a railroad crossing?

If everyone has seen it at some time or other, then why doesn't the railroad let the sign rot away? Why does the railroad company continue to keep those signs at every crossing?

Maybe you think, Mr. Merchant, "Most everybody knows my store, I don't have to advertise."

Your store and your goods need more advertising than the railroads need do to warn people to "Look Out for the Cars."

Nothing is ever completed in the advertising world.

The Department Stores are a very good example—they are continually advertising—and they are continually doing a good business

TOM REED'S STRONG ORATORY

Maine Man Was of the Soil and He Knew the Art of Compression.

It was 20 miles to town over a Kansas prairie and 20 miles home again that the old-timer from Maine had journeyed to hear Tom Reed make a campaign speech.

"O, Sarah, Sarah," he said, as he gathered up the reins, "we've heard a real Maine man today. And wasn't it good? Did you notice how he said, 'We'ell,' every time. And he just held the Democratic party up by the tail. I declare for it. I've had such a good time it makes me fairly homesick."

Tom Reed was a Maine man, of the stock and of the soil. He could compress an hour of argument into an epigram with a single sentence he could demolish a laboriously built position; with a phrase he could turn the tables on the most brilliant grandiloquence. When a brilliant fellow-member ended a peroration by saying, "As for me, I would rather be right than be president," and Tom Reed retorted, "Well, don't worry; you'll never be either," the whole speech became dust, and only Reed's epigram remained.

Now it was Reed's Maine heredity and Maine environment that thus armed him to cope with an opponent. For generations there have been men in every Maine town with a local reputation for saying things pithily, pungently and humorously.

There was uncle Daniel Decker, known for his "dry" sayings the whole length of the lower Saco valley from Limington down. "Jim Smith's legs is so durned short," said uncle Daniel, "that when he walks down hill the seat of his pants drags on the ground."

IS SHOCK TO BOTH NATIONS

German Waiter Objects to Newsboys Shouting War With France Has Been Declared.

The German waiter in the Waldorf cafe at luncheon time the other day was very much disturbed as he brought the bill of fare.

"Pardon me, sir," he said, "but is it true that war has been declared between Germany and France?"

The man who was about to eat hadn't heard of it, and asked how the waiter had got the information.

"Why, those half a dozen young men who call 'Uxtra, special uxtra!' every other night through the winter in this part of the town were yelling outside about half an hour ago that war had been declared and were selling papers on the strength of it," was the reply. "If they were shouting false news like that there ought to be a way of punishing them, for every German and every Frenchman who heard them must have got a terrible shock."—New York Sun.

Found in the Census Bulletins.

A rather startling feature of one of the recent census bulletins is that concerning mortality with reference to women. Dr. Cressy L. Wilbur, chief statistician of vital statistics, declares that out of all the deaths reported for the age periods from 10 to 24 and 35 to 44 years 39.3 per cent. of them are due to tuberculosis of the lungs. Of the deaths among women workers between the ages of 35 and 64 years heart disease claims an average of 14.49 per cent. The bulletin also shows that between the ages of 35 and 64 6.8 per cent. of the deaths among women is due to cancer, and it also states that of the total number of deaths among women of specified occupation by far the largest per cent. is due to consumption.

Render Unto Caesar—

The agent of a recently completed large New York apartment house had a card placed in all the passenger elevators bearing this notice: "Gentlemen will remove their hats when there are ladies in the car." The cards were taken down after a few days, but there seems to be a difference of opinion as to the reason. The agent says that his aim has been accomplished, while some of the tenants said that he was willing to let the matter of the hats take care of itself after he had read a letter signed by a number of tenants protesting against his "mentorship." "If you want us to take off our hats to anybody let the order come from the janitor," they wrote. "He's the janitor, but you are only the agent."

Sculptor Receives Decoration.

Albert Jaegers, the sculptor of the Baron von Steuben statue, which was recently presented by the United States to Germany, has been decorated with the Order of the Eagle, fourth class, in recognition of his merit. He was born in Elberfield, Germany, in 1868, obtaining his education in the public schools. Without wealth or influential friends he worked away in the face of many discouraging features, until, self-taught in art, he arrived at the point where his creations commanded recognition. He came to this country several years ago to make his home, and he has an attractive place at Suffern, New York.

Pews at Cut Rates.

"A reduction of $2 a year in pew rent will fetch the bargain hunter every time," said a sexton. "Only last week a young woman who expects to make her home in this city concluded that of all city churches of this denomination she liked ours best and would take a pew here, but when she found she could get a pew that suited her about as well in another church for $3 a year less she let all other considerations go by the board and identified herself with that church.

"The cut rate pew hunter is a recognized feature of modern church life. Because a new member elects to join our congregation does not at all signify that he shares our religious convictions or likes the pastor and our service; it may mean that we charge less for the pew he likes than another church up the street."—Philadelphia Ledger.

Interested in American System.

While visiting Vienna recently, the ex-shah of Persia, Mahomet Ali, devoted much time to the inspection of great business and manufacturing establishments, and on one of these tours, made under the guidance of a large manufacturer, and with little Prince Mahomet Mirza, they were joined at the office of a newspaper by an American with whom the ex-monarch entered into earnest conversation. He was deeply interested in what the American told him about commercial affairs in the United States, but what interested him most, said one of the party, was "our election system, as to which he made searching inquiry."

Like a Dream to Her.

Margaret Andoux, the Paris dressmaker, whose book has attracted the attention of great scholars all over the world, worked at her trade for the sum of 60 cents a day. She left the country and went to Paris with but a few cents in her pocket, and considered herself lucky to have arrived at the dignity of something over half a dollar a day wage. Her book, "Marie Claire," made her several thousand dollars, and now the poor dressmaker may rest from her labors for awhile.

CURRENT VERSE

A Daughter of Dixie.

Her eyes are soft with dreams of love,
And dark as some lagoon
In which, through woven branches, shines
The glory of the noon.
Her silver voice is sweet and low,
Her brow is broad and meek,
And pure as waxen orange flowers
The oval of her cheek.

Her dusky tresses thick and fine,
In many a silken fold,
Are bound about her shapely head
And filleted with gold.
Her lips are like the dewy rose
That finds a resting place
Upon her heart, in filmy frills
Of organdie and lace.

A knight of old who crossed the sea
With nothing but his lance,
Bequeathed to her that regal air,
That dark and tender glance.
Oh, daughter of the sunny South,
Where summer never dies,
The North, that never feared your guns,
Surrenders to your eyes!

—Leslie's Weekly.

Eraser in the Laundry.

One instrument of cleanliness found in a first-class laundry is a rubber eraser. "That is needed to rub the pencil marks from cuffs," said the manager. "We used to throw that kind of correspondence into soap water and try to wash it clean, but marks made by some pencils soaked in instead of washing out, and left the cuffs spotched and streaked, so they are now treated to a preliminary dry scrub with an eraser."

Hard to Answer.

Little four-year-old Robert, like many other boys of his age, liked to ask questions. So when the first downy chicks came in the spring and his mother saw him studying them most intently, she knew something was coming. And it did, for presently he turned to his mother and asked, "Mamma, are chickens' legs hind legs or front legs?"—M. B. Denison in Woman's Home Companion.

Where Did He Learn It?

A teacher of English, in order to disprove the charge that high school pupils know little about the vital things that are going on around them, gave a test in which she asked for definitions of such terms as tariff, reciprocity, the labor problem. In the paper of a 15-year-old she found this: "The labor problem is how to keep the working people happy without paying them enough to live on."—La Follett's Weekly.

For Women Who Care

Of course you use an antiseptic in your family and in the care of your own person, and you want the best.

Instead of what you have been using such as liquid or tablet antiseptics or peroxide, won't you please try Paxtine, a concentrated antiseptic powder to be dissolved in water as needed.

Paxtine is more economical, more cleansing, more germicidal and more healing than anything you ever used.

Paxtine ANTISEPTIC

In the toilet—to cleanse and whiten the teeth, remove tartar and prevent decay. To disinfect the mouth, destroy disease germs, and purify the breath. To keep artificial teeth and bridgework clean and odorless. To remove nicotine from the teeth and purify the breath after smoking. To eradicate perspiration odors by sponge bathing.

As a medicinal agent for local treatment of feminine ills where pelvic catarrh, inflammation and ulceration exist, nothing equals hot douches of Paxtine. For ten years the Lydia E. Pinkham Med. Co. has been regularly advising their patients to use it because of its extraordinary cleansing, healing and germicidal power. For this purpose alone Paxtine is worth its weight in gold. Also for nasal catarrh, sore throat, inflamed eyes, cuts and wounds. All druggists, 25 and 50 cents a box. Trial box and testimony of 31 women free on request.

WORTH MORE THAN MONEY

Here is an instance where a few words of advice by a friend helped more than a gift of $1000 would.

Mrs. H. Harman, who lives in Albany, N. Y., who was in bad health for years and is now strong and vigorous says in a letter:

"I was in a run-down condition for about five years until this spring, when I learned what a good tonic and strengthener Vinol is. It is certainly the best tonic I have ever used and it has done wonders for me."

It is very important for all who are not feeling just right, to build up their strength this spring by taking our delicious cod liver and iron remedy without oil, Vinol.

There is no better time than right now, for Vinol both enriches and purifies the blood and creates new strength. People who have troublesome coughs, no appetite, can't sleep, find Vinol exactly what they need to build them up. We guarantee Vinol to satisfy you and will pay back your money if it does not. UNUSUAL DISPOSITION IS MADE IN COURT OF CONSTABLE'S CASE

A rather unusual disposition has been made of the case of James B. White against D. F. Mathers of North Charleroi, a constable and Charles Smith, a property holder, in which the plaintiff secured a verdict for damages for alleged unlawful levy and sale of household goods by Mathers at the instance of Smith, upon a landlord's warrant.

The court refuses a new trial on the condition that the wife of the plaintiff, who also has filed a claim against the defendant, sign a release of any and all claims against the defendant by reason of this alleged unlawful levy and sale of household goods. This release must be filed with the prothonotary within 20 days, otherwise the motion for a new trial will be granted.

In the motion for a new trial the reasons given were that the verdict was execssive and could not under the most favorable interpretation of the plaintiff's claim. exceed the sum of $27.50. It was asked that if the court refused a new trial that the verdict be reduced to $27.50.

The court after reviewing the case has reached the conclusion in the matter it will make such an order as stated above, whereas if the amount of the verdict was reduced to $27.50 it would leave the way open for a second suit to be brought by the wife and the costs of the defendants in defending such an action would be greater than the difference between $27.50 and the verdict rendered by the jury.

Japanese Fruit Trees.

Among the many ways of their own that the Japanese have for doing is their system of pruning and training fruit trees. The system is called "tana," and consists in training the branches overhead on trellis work made of bamboo or wire supported on wooden posts about five and a half feet high.

This offers advantages in gathering the fruit, and not only serves to protect the trees against wind and storms, but is said to increase production. Only very light pruning is done, and that usually in the winter time. This system is generally adopted for pears and vines, less often for apples and plums.—Youth's Compe-

TO TUNNEL ENGLISH CHANNEL

Scheme Is Being Revived In Spite of Refusal to Pass Last Bill.

The scheme for a tunnel between England and France is being revived in spite of the emphatic refusal of the last bill which was presented in 1907. But great changes have been brought about since then in relation to the military opposition to the scheme, for the coming of the aeroplane and its rapid development as an implement of war have to some extent removed the idea of danger from invasion by tunnel.

If 11 aeroplanes can cross the channel together, as they did a few weeks ago, there is little reason why an army of them may not do so in the near future if they wished. A tunnel also might under certain circumstances be a help in time of war rather than a danger, as much of our food supply could be brought through it.

The chief advantage, however, of the tunnel would be an increase of trade and tourist traffic between England and France as well as countries beyond France. At present the borings at each side are well over a mile and it is estimated that the whole work could be completed within five years, as there is no hard rock to be pierced. The adoption of electricity instead of steam would also remove one of the original drawbacks.

Seal's Marvelous Instinct.

The instinct of the seal is marvelous. It will leave its young on the ice in the morning, and, going down through a hole, remain away all day swimming in search of food. Returning in the evening it will locate its offspring in the same "patch" among hundreds of thousands of other baby seals, notwithstanding that the ice may have wheeled or drifted 50 or 60 miles during the day from wind and tide, and notwithstanding that the patch may extend 30 or 40 miles from one end to the other. Whether this instinct is of the class that enables the bird, without any mark or chart, in a forest with millions of trees alike, to find its way back with ease and precision to its nest, I do not know, but it is one of the wonders in nature before which human knowledge is brought to a full stop.—Sir Edward Morris, in Wide World Magazine.

Spider Web Prophecy.

Some spiders are weather prophets. Perhaps some of you have noticed in the fields in a summer morning the grass covered with little cobwebs. Under each web there is a spider that comes out of a hole in the ground, and all the spiders are alike. When these webs are on the grass it is quite sure not to rain.

WORLD OF BLUFF AND SHAM

Absolute Frankness Seems to Be a Thing Unknown Among Men and Women.

One of the most pitiful as well as one of the commonest things in all this old world is sham. Those who hide—and who of us does not?—under its sleazy covering are continually struggling to keep up appearances against a remorseless and overwhelming handicap. The modern spirit of emulation is responsible for much of the present-day sham. The mad race to keep up with and a little ahead of one's neighbors creates an ingenuine condition. One strives for a good showing, and life behind the scenes accepts what's left. If we could only see the other side that is jealously hidden from Mrs. Grundy's prying eyes what an awakening there would be oftentimes!

The man who, living on his wife's inherited or possibly hard-earned money, tells his friends with blatant impudence that she spends his wages faster than he can earn them and then asks for more; the young wife who to "make a show" passes her summers at some fashionable resort while her husband bends his head even nearer the grindstone to meet an extravagance that far overreaches his salary, supplementing the deficit by borrowing from his business partner; the "happy" woman who with serene eyes forces the world to think her lot a blissful one when all the while her heart is breaking over some secret sorrow or bitter humiliation—each a disciple of bluff, sham and pride. What cankers of the soul these three cover! And the world moves serenely on and the make-beliefs which cover a multitude of miseries are held valiantly up to trick Dame Grundy into thinking that all is gold that glitters.

Catching the Speaker's Eye.

The practice of "catching the Speaker's eye" dates back to the session of 1640, when a heated dispute arose between members of the house, several of whom claimed precedence of speech. It was then decided that whoever first caught the Speaker's eye should have the right to address the house. This rule worked smoothly until 1685, when Sir John Trevor was elected to the chair. The new Speaker was afflicted with an abominable squint, consequently two members would often catch his eye simultaneously and decline to give way to one another. To obviate this a further rule was framed to the effect that the Speaker should call by name upon the member privileged to address the house. So every holder of the office has to possess a good memory for names as well as keen eyesight.—London Chronicle.

Origin of Familiar Terms.

Much history is written in the ordinary words of the language. "Tabby," for example. This very domestic-appearing word for the Arabian designation of a quarter of Bagdad famous for its manufacture of divers colored silks and cottons—a quarter named after 'Attab, the great-grandson of Omeyya. "Tabby" appears in English literature in the first half of the seventeenth century as the general term for striped taffeta silks. In the same century "tabby" is applied to a striped or brindled cat. In the eighteenth century, to an "elderly maiden lady." The sense development of this word is in striking contrast with that of another old Arab, "tariff," which came in the sixteenth century, meaning a "multiplication table," and has remained essentially unchanged to the present day.

Cares for the Birds.

Many women have taken great interest in the Audubon society, a concrete illustration being the Mary Dutcher memorial fund and the Sage fund. The Mary Dutcher fund was named in memory of the daughter of Mr. Dutcher, who was the spirit of the Audubon society organization; $7,548 has been contributed to the fund by the friends of Mr. Dutcher. Mrs. Sage, who loves birds and all wild animals, began her work by a gift of $500, to be used for the care of the robins, and a few days afterwards she followed the gift with another of $5,000, as she had found that in the South the robin is regarded as a game bird, and consequently needs better protection. She will give $5,000 for the next two years to make the protection of this bird more adequate. Field agents will be engaged with the funds she has placed at the disposal of the society, and they will try to see that any law in reference to the bird is obeyed.

Help Farmers' Wives.

Miss Rose, who was elected secretary of the same association, has been her assistant.

Not a Cheap Building.

It has been estimated that to rebuild the pyramid of Cheops under modern conditions an expenditure of $100,000,000 would be necessary and the labor of 40,000 men for two years required.

It has been calculated that the work really required the services of 100,000 men for thirty years.

The pyramid occupies a space of twelve and three-quarters acres, is 748 feet high and contains about 143,315,400 cubic yards of stone and granite.

The material alone represents an item of $36,000,000, while the labor would increase this amount to $72,000,000. To this must be added $3,000,000 for tools, transportation, and similar items.

The pyramid is built on a solid rock 150 feet deep, and to build a foundation of this character would add to the cost to the extent of making the total of $100,000,000.—Scientific

Detailed Washington County Vote Shows Colonel's Strength

ONE IS UNINSTRUCTED

Davidson to go With James Cunningham to the National Convention

Unofficial returns from all of the 142 precincts of the vote of the primary election Saturday in Washington county do not materially change the results announced Monday.

The results show that Aiken for Congress lost in Washington county by 627 votes. In the district he will be about 2,700 votes behind Matthews. On the legislative ticket Allison, Feeney and Walker, the organization candidates were easy winners. James H. Cunningham, for Roosevelt, and George Davidson, uninstructed, both of Beaver county have won out in the district for national delegates. Owen C. Underwood, Rosevelt was but a short distance behind Davidson and the official count may bring him still closer. James P. Eagleson Taft delegate, was fourth while John Cunningham, the unrecognized Roosevelt candidate, brought up the rear.

The totals in the district are as follows: James Cunningham, 7,885; George Davidson, 6,028; O. C. Underwood, 5,784; J. P. Eagleson, 5,599; John Cunningham, 4,676.

This gives one delegates for Roosevelt and while Davidson was uninstructed, it is understood that he will be for Taft.

The Roosevelt men were well in the lead in the contest for State delegate, five of the colonel's followers and one lone Taft man being chosen. It may require the official count to determine the identity of this Taft man but the unofficial figures indicate it will be Frank R. Colvin. The five Roosevelt men elected are Frank M. Coursen, H. H. Huston, Theodore Landefeld, Julius P. Miller, Jr. and County Controller John H. Moffitt.

JEWELRY WORTH SMALL FORTUNE TAKEN FROM HOTEL

Jewelry valued at $1,500 was stolen fram hotel of William Seanor, Fifth avenue, Monessen, some time Sunday night. Police in various places have been asked to apprehend William Stein, alias Miller, a porter employed at the hotel who disappeared. It is believed by Mr. Seanor that the porter can throw some light on the disappearance of the jewelry which consisted of a diamond brooch, surrounded with pearls; a diamond ring set with two diamonds of one karet each; one ring set with a one-karet diamond; one opal ring surrounded with diamonds and one five stone diamond ring.

Most of the number will visit in continental Europe, although there are many going direct to England.

GRANGE MEMBERS TO HELP

Curb Market Idea Meets With Ready Response Among Growers

WILL ACT OFFICIALLY

Growers and agriculturalists who are members of Fallowfield Grange are taking great interest in the proposal of Charleroi people to establish a curb market here, and it is stated will be ready to fall in line with the movement as soon as arrangements are made. At the next meeting of the grange which will be in a few days, the scheme will be taken up and discussed by the grange. This is the result of a meeting held last Saturday night by a number of grange members. The meeting was attended by Frank Bly and Dr. C. C. Wright, of Charleroi who have been working in the interests of the curb market.

At the meeting Saturday the plan for selling produce at the curb was explained by the Charleroi men, although no action was taken endorsing the idea by the members present, practically every one expressed himself in favor of it.

BIGGEST SHIP EVER FLOATED GOES DOWN

Between 1,400 and 1,800 Lives Sacrificed When Titanic Hits Iceberg--Some of Drowned Ones Have Friends Here

Carrying to a watery grave 630 of her 1,300 passengers and crew of 860 the steamer Titanic of the White Star line has gone down some 500 miles off Cape Race. On its maiden trip across the Atlantic this $10,000,000 vessels, the biggest ever built, rammed into an iceberg and before aid summoned by wireless could reach her, had sunk. Latest reports state that of the total number of persons on board only 670 were saved, the most of these being women and children

While so far as can be learned there was no one from Washington county aboard the magnificent steamer when it went down, there were friends of Charleroi and Washington county people thought to have been drowned. Consequently the local population mourns with the rest of the world.

It is supposed that the steamer was endeavoring to make a record trip across the Atlantic when it struck the iceberg. She was a day ahead of her schedule. By the headon collision, the steamer's forward plates were completely wrecked, and a gaping wound opened below her water line, letting the water into her forward compartments. The Virginian and the Titantic's mate, the Olympic were the first to be notified of the disaster by wireless and hastened toward the doomed vessel. The Carpathia however was the first to arrive on the scene All arrived too late to be of much assistance Only the comparative few who could be packed into the [illegible]

Aboard the vessel were many millionaires and their familes. Among those believed to have met death was Lucien Smith of Uniontown, and possibly his bride of two months, the daughter of Congressman James Hughes of Huntingdon, W. Va. Mr. Smith is known to several here Among others thought to be numbered among the lost are Col. Archibald Butt, President Taft's military aide, who was returning from an official trip abroad, Mr. and Mrs John Jacob Astor, and several others whose names are more or less familiar in monied circles.

Through Service Not to Come Through Monongahela Valley

According to the reports among officials of the Pittsburg and Lake Erie railroad no through trains over the Western Maryland lines will come up the Monongahela valley, and through trains from Cumberland to Connellsville will enter Pittsburg by the way of the Youghiogheny branch cutting off a distance of 12 miles and doing away with the heavy grade that would be encountered between Fayette City and Connellsville.

It is stated that the extension of the Monongahela railroad from Martin to the state line is to be completed by June 1, when a direct outlet to the seaboard will be provided by the means of the connecting link from Fayette City with the new Western Maryland from Connellsville to Cumberland, which will be opened next week.

Berkeley and Cooper or P. A. Johns Elected -- Former Charlero Man Wins

ASSEMBLYMEN NAMED

Among those victorious at the primaries in Fayette county Saturday was H. A. "Bert" Chalfant, formerly of Charleroi. He was a candidate for Assembly on the Republican ticket and won out. The other two winners on the Republican ticket for assembly were Carroll and Conwell. For national delegate Harvey M. Berkley, Roosevelt delegate has been elected. It may take the official count to determine whether Peter A. Johns, a Roosevelt man or former congressman Allen F. Cooper, a Taft man is elected, although recent returns point favorably to the former. Josiah V. Thompson, a Taft man, has been defeated for delegate. For Congress Col. Thomas S. Crago of Waynesburg has defeated Charles F. Hood of Connellsville by a big margin.

CONTROLLER JUSTIFIED DECLARES THE COURT

Did Right in Refusing to Honor Poor Director's Warrant

WAS SALARY DISPUTE

Buchanan Not Affected by New Law Increasing Pay of Officers

That County Controller John H. Moffitt was justified in refusing to honor a warant carrying an increase in salary for Poor Director R. C. Buchanan on the grounds that he was not affected by a new law increasing the salaries of the more recently elected poor directors, was in effect the decision of the courts in an opinion handed down Monday evening. The opinion was in the suit in equity brought in the name of the Commonwealth by R. W. Wolfe H D. Brownelller and R. C. Buchanan, poor directors against the controller to compel him to honor certain requisitions for the use of the county and children's home, including that of an increase in Mr. Buchanan's salary.

In addition to sustaining Controller Moffitt in his action, the court took occasion in a lengthy review of the case to suggest that there be harmony rather than friction between the officials concerned with the homes.

The matter was threshed out before Judges McIlvaine and Taylor last Friday Guy Moffitt and Acheson and Crumrine represented the controller and Washington attorneys the poor directors.

The court gave the following conclusions in the case in summing up its opinion:

"First—That a director of the poor of Washington county is a public officer within the meaning of Section 13, Article 3, of the constitution.

"Second—That R. C. Buchanan has been in office before the passage of the Act of 1911, which increased the salary of the office, was not entitled to the increase, but as to him the act was inoperative and his salary should be paid under the law as it was at and before the time he was inducted into office.

"Third—The directors of the poor having incorporated a claim for a month's salary to R. C. Buchanan greater than that to which he was entitled and not offering to strike off that claim and take warrant for those things that the controller could approve, justified the controller in refusing to issue the warrant asked for."

WILL DROP CASE OF DONOVAN

District Miners Will Not Hear Affair of Former Officer

CHARGES AGAINST HIM

Former Secretary-Treasurer Tim Donovan's case, growing out of his suspension from office last winter, was quickly disposed of Monday in the convention of District No. 5, United Mine Workers, in Labor Temple in Pittsburg. The grievance committee recommended that as the former district secretary-treasurer had made no charges to the district executive board, the convention should take no action. A roll call was necessary and the committee's stand was upheld by a vote of 84 to 77.

A new election for board member from sub-district No. 1 was ordered. F. P. Hanaway of Noblestown was declared elected, but complaint was made against the pre-election elimination of Andrew Pusker of Imperial. District officials declared they acted in accordance with the constitution, as Puskar had been nominated by local unions not in good standing. The convention overrode the district officials and the latter, through Vice President Van Bittner, promised an appeal to the international board.

Half of the court costs growing out of the arrests of members at the Chamount mine, California, Pa., will be paid by the district organization, the convention decided. The men were accused of inciting to riot in a strike. The Court assessed them for half the costs, $250.

FAIR RULINGS.

It may be a matter of gratification to the people of Washington county to know that our courts have made some notable decisions lately which have attracted State and Nation-wide attention, and which have not only been upheld in popular opinion but have served as precedents in the guidance of other courts. One of these was the decision in regard to the printing of the Presidential preference after the names of candidates for State delegates on the primary ballots. The Washington county court made the first decision in the State covering this matter, and the fact that they gave it a liberal construction rather than basing it on technical grounds, displayed the broad and comprehensive grasp of the meaning and intent of the law in the interest of the public. The fact that all other courts that passed upon this question made the Washington county decision a precedent, conveys a compliment to the fairness and integrity of our county courts.

Another case that has been decided upon its constitutional merits is the one just made which sustains the contention that a county official can not have his salary raised while in office, on the technical claim that because his action is subservient to other county officials he is not a county official proper, and that the constitutional interposition would not apply. The county court ruled that the poor directors are county officials proper and that as such must be governed by the constitutional requirements that apply to all such officials.

It is this spirit of fairness and an evident desire to interpret the law to its fullest extent in the interests of the public, which has raised our county courts to their present high standing. The disposition of some of the courts throughout the country to construe the law to apply to special interests and cases has had a tendency to place the judiciary in disrepute with the public, and to create a clamor for the judicial recall. It can be truthfully stated that this tendency is entirely lacking in our courts and the decisions and rulings of the latter are everywhere generally accepted with confidence and respct by the public.

AN OPPORTUNITY.

The statement that the Pittsburg & Lake Erie Railroad company will not run tidewater trains through the Monongahela valley in its through passenger service between Pittsburg and Baltimore over the Western Maryland extension, will be a disappointment to the business and commercial interests of this section. While there may be some natural obstacles in the way of distance and grade, the greater advantages in the way of passenger traffic would seem to make the Monongahela valley route preferable to that of the Youghiogheny valley. The populous centers of the former section all the way up from McKeesport to Fayette City certainly affords a better field for passenger traffic than the territory of the Youghiogheny, which between McKeesport and Connellsville, which is devoid of large towns and centers of population.

It is possible that if the business interests of the Monongahela valley interest themselves in the matter the Pittsburg & Lake Erie people might be induced to reconsider their decision on the choice of their tidewater route if it has already been made. If not, then it is all the more important that efforts should be made to induce the company to select this route. A direct pasenger service from this section to tidewater in the east will be a big business advantage in many ways and Business Men's Asociation and Boards of Trade of the various towns along the valley should co-operate in the manner and make every effort possible to secure this route for the Monongahela valley.

PICKED UP IN PASSING

That newspaper advertising pays when the advertiser has something that interests the public or what the public wants, is evidenced by the number of depositors secured in the Christmas Savings Fund scheme instituted by the Charleroi Savings and Trust company on April 1. With no other advertising except through the Charleroi Mail and the Charleroi Mirror, several hundred accounts have been secured and they're still coming.

The scheme is a most unique one, but at the same time it is so practical and efficient that it instantly appeals to all who are inclined to be thrifty. It is literally a scheme for saving pennies for Christmas, except that like some kinds of euchre it is progressive. The depositor starts out on the first of April by depositing one cent, which is followed up the next week by the deposit of two cents, and three cents the next week, four the next, and so on for thirty-six (36) weeks. This period brings the deposit up to within two weeks of Christmas, when the Trust company mails a check for the amount to the depositor, plus three per cent interest for the average time the money has been in the bank. This gives the depositor a lump sum just before Christmas to devote to shopping, which is usually a most welcome acquisition.

There are three kinds of accounts involved in this scheme. One is to start with one cent deposit, one with two cents and another with five cents. This is as high as the accounts run. Those who start with one cent and keep up their deposits will reveive at the end of the 36 weeks $6.66 in cash, in addition to the accrued interest. The two cent account will bring the amount in hand for the holiday shopping up to $13.32, and the five cent account will amount to $33.30, plus accrued interest. Of course the deposits become greater each week as the time progresses, the previous week's deposit being augmented each week by the amount of the account—the one, two, or five cents, whichever acount has been opened. They payment for the last week's deposit of the one cent account is 36 cents; of the two cent account, 72 cents; of the five cent account, $1.80.

It may not be realized that this scheme has a public bearing that is beneficial in three ways. It benefits the individual by giving him more money to satisfy his desires in the matter of Christmas shopping than he would ordinarily have; it benefits the bank and incidentally the public by giving the former a greater volume of currency to use in its business, which otherwise would be in children's savings banks and in the pockets of the people, and consequently idle and unproductive in a business way, and confers a benefit to the local trades people by turning loose in the holiday season a big volume of money which otherwise in most cases would have been dissipated because the pennies were considered too small an amount to deposit in any bank.

As to the aggregate amount the number of accounts already received by the Charleroi Savings and Trust company indicate that the lump sum disbursed will run up into five figures. It is a beneficial scheme all around, and one that is easy for most people to carry out.

SEVEN YEARS OF MISERY

How Mrs. Bethune was Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Sikeston, Mo. — "For seven years I suffered everything. I was in bed for four or five days at a time every month, and so weak I could hardly walk. I had cramps, backache and headache, and was so nervous and weak that I dreaded to see anyone or have anyone move in the room. The doctors gave me medicine to ease me at those times, and said that I ought to have an operation. I would not listen to that, and when a friend of my husband's told him about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and what it had done for his wife, I was willing to take it. Now I look the picture of health and feel like it, too. I can do all my own housework, work in the garden and entertain company and enjoy them, and can walk as far as any ordinary woman, any day in the week. I wish I could talk to every suffering woman and girl, and tell them what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me."—Mrs. DEMA BETHUNE, Sikeston, Mo.

Remember, the remedy which did this was Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

It has helped thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, that bearing down feeling, indigestion, and nervous prostration, after all other means have failed. Why don't you try it?

BEING BRISK A GOOD HABIT

Children Should Be Taught Quickness in Running Errands and in Dressing Themselves.

If a child is allowed to acquire a slow, dawdling manner when told to do any particular duty it will be found very difficult to effect a cure, and this means a serious hindrance to success in after years.

Teach them while very young to do everything promptly and to finish what they have commenced. If they are sent on a message make them to clearly understand that they must go direct to the shop and not loiter on the way. Children may be seen at any time carrying a message and lingering to look at everything on the way.

I often wonder at what time the poor mother gets her messages home, when I see a child loitering about instead of walking along briskly. Quickness in dress, also, should be insisted upon. If too young to dress themselves they should be taught to keep still while the mother or sister puts on their clothing.

At a later age forbid any running about the house until fully dressed—and quickly dressed. Some little maidens are rather fond of looking in the glass while dressing and this is a habit which should be at once repressed. It not only encourages vanity but it causes the child to waste much valuable time.

Because of You.

Because of you, dear heart,
I deemed all human creatures true;
And to my happiness there seemed no end,
Because of you.

The robins sang so light and free,
As from the garden to their nest they flew,
I sank with them a year today,
Because of you.

A year ago today—alas, dear heart,
You loved me well, and that I knew,
And yet today my heart is lone and drear,
Because of you.

DESIGNS THAT ARE NOVEL

Japanese Scene on Handkerchiefs Proves Popular—Sheer Materials Are Also Greatly Favored.

Among the latest novelties in handkerchiefs are those with a Japanese scene sketched in one corner with a very fine silk thread. The picture is about two inches long and one inch wide, with Japanese pagodas, blossoms, and branches of trees outlined in pale pink, blue, red or yellow. The sketch is not on the handkerchief, but is on a separate piece of the material and appliqued.

Handkerchiefs of Madeira embroidery are popular. They are embroidered in colors as well as white. Some have tiny scallops edged in blue, pink, lavender, or green; others have a sprig of flowers embroidered in one corner as well as the scalloped edge.

Colors either in polka dots or as narrow borders, are used on most of the new handkerchiefs. Some have colored centers with white polka dots and others have colored dots on the white centers with a very narrow border in color. It is the fashion to carry with a linen suit a handkerchief with a touch of color matching the suit.

While we still see laces, embroideries, and the like, yet the very newest patterns are of the sheerest material imaginable, delicately turned on th edges and plain hemstitched or trimmed with very narrow lace. Monogram handkerchiefs with nun eyelet initials, delicately worked are very attractive.

Fine sheer handkerchiefs are easily made at home, and cost much less than when bought at the store. Instead of hemming the edges they should be rolled French fashion. Dampen the thumb and first finger of the left hand and roll as finely as possible, as you continue to sew. The face edging or insertion that you trim should be sewed on with the same stitch that sews the roll. In other words, the roll and edging are sewed at the same time. It makes a prettier, more delicate finish than a hem, as it is almost invisible. Such handkerchiefs may be trimmed as simply or as elaborately as you wish.

Real Angel of Death.

Most of us are familiar with the beautiful and artistic conception of French, wherein a young sculptor who is plying his magic chisel upon a block of stone and summoning from the snowy depths of the marble the dream face of his soul's idea, is gently touched by the wistful-eyed Angel of Death and the skillful arm forever stayed. The whole creation is marvelously beautiful and the world is better for its birth. Nevertheless, it is allegorical and misleading.

The real Angel of Death in the case of the thin-faced sculptor was not a sad-visaged maiden of classical profile. In all probability it was a minute, rod-like organism floating amid motes of dust and known to scientists as the "bacteria tuberculosis." The writer does not want to be a shatterer of ideals, but the sooner such poetic notions of death are done away with and the mass of the people educated in a common sense way to the dangers of dust and bacteria, the better it will be for humanity in general.—J. G. Ogden in October Popular Mechanics.

Where Wesley Wrote Hymns.

The Rev. J. H. Wicksteed, vicar of Bexley, Kent, England, has presented to the Wesleyan Methodists of Gravesend and Dartford circuit a tree from the vicarage garden, a sapling of the old oak under whose branches John and Charles Wesley, with George Whitefield, often met in friendly conference.

It is believed that Charles Wesley composed some of his hymns under its shadow, and John, in his diary of September 22, 1740, writes: "I went to Mr. Piers, the vicar of Bexley, where in the mornings and evenings I expounded the sermon on the mount and had leisure during the rest of the day for business of other kinds." He was there again Saturday, December 2, 1749, "and preached about 11."

MUSIC AS CURATIVE AGENT

Singing Teaches Correct Breathing and Lively Waltzes Have Good Effects on Melancholia Patients.

Two English physicians of prominence have recently asserted that the exercise given to the lungs in singing is valuable in the prevention and cure of diseases of those organs. They consider that increased professional recognition should be extended to this special therapeutic agency, as advisable in cases where pulmonary consumption is feared.

Singing involves correct nasal breathing, and this means that the air admitted to the lungs is practically germ free, and also the adequate development of the upper portions of the respiratory passages. Another effect is the maintenance of the elasticity and proper expansion of the chest. The necessary breathing exercises mean increased functional activity of the lungs. Then, there is the improved oxygenation of the blood, which singing necessarily promotes.

As we know, most singers and also those musicians who perform on wind instruments are a healthy looking lot. Not many years from now music will be recognized as a most valuable curative agent, especially in cases of insanity or morbidity. What tired, overwrought, distressed man or woman does not know the value of music. How many beautiful stories could be told of the power of music to sustain and restrain?

One of the greatest scientists living has testified that he was once kept from thoughts of despair and suicide by suddenly hearing in the next house someone playing Rubenstein's Melody in F.

In the Croydon Mental hospital, London, waltz music—particularly the bright, musical comedy pieces—is used in effecting a cure for melancholia patients.

Revenge for Her Sex.

Many men make a business of marrying women, securing their money and then deserting them. One woman in New England has taken it upon herself to avenge the wrongs of her sex in this line. This woman, who is described as "young, handsome and winning," is charged with having "flitted" from one military post to another, making her choice from the eligible young officers, captivating them, becoming the bride of each in turn, securing all the money possible from each and then "flitting" again. She has shown that the opposite sex has no monopoly in this sort of business. But whether she is actuated by desire to prove such condition or by purposes of gain is not made evident.—Chicago Journal.

The "Civil War."

Hereafter it may be officially "the Civil war" instead of "the war of the rebellion," if an amendment to a bill adopted by the house of representatives at Washington shall go through. The action is not of much moment one way or another. The American public have dropped into the habit of calling the great struggle the Civil war, and no one will seriously oppose the new usage in congressional enactments. In fact, the change is in its way significant of the better feeling and stronger nationality that have succeeded those four years of bloody strife.

Plea for Lives of Birds.

"One billion dollar loss each year is suffered by farmers and fruit growers of this country by reason of the reckless and senseless destruction of bird life," declared the president of the League of American Sportsmen, Pa. He is a recognized authority on the subject of American game and declares that reliable statistics show that the crop values of the country are $1,000,000,000 a year less than they would be if birds were as plentiful as formerly, so that more insect pests would be destroyed.

Laments Forgotten Art.

We have a great many amateur huntsmen nowadays, and not all of them understand how to blow a horn, or have the knowledge of the few calls which are in these degenerate times used in hunting. Even among professional huntsmen the science of the hunting horn is much neglected.—London Illustrated Sporting and Dramatic News.

Unmarried Women in Cities.

In Chicago, out of every 1,000 women in the age period from 25 to 29, at the last count, there were 314 who were unmarried. In Denver there were 331. In Manhattan and the Bronx there were 356. In Minneapolis there were 369. In Philadelphia there were 387.

To Brighten Old Gilt.

Old gilt, such as the gilded frames of chairs or old picture frames and mirrors, if they do not require regilding entirely, may be brightened by using an excellent mixture of three ounces of white of egg and an ounce of chloride of potash or soda. This should be painted over the surface with a feather or a water-color paint brush.

The Model Hired Girl.

The following testimonial was given to a servant girl: "This is to certify that the bearer has been in my service one year less 11 months. During this time I found her to be diligent at the back door, temperate at her work, prompt at excuses, amiable toward young men, faithful to her sweethearts and honest when everything was safe under lock and key."

COSTA RICAN IS DIGNIFIED

He Loves Pomp and Ceremony and His Formal Banquets Are Distressingly Solemn.

"The Costa Rican loves pomp and ceremony. He plays with diplomacy, and from force of habit strikes a threatening attitude toward the head of the government, whoever he may be, but never carries it so far as to provoke a revolution, as is done in the sister republics.

"He is a perfect picture of the posing hero in the comic opera, never yet having been conquered by his enemy, but always on guard," writes a woman correspondent of Health Culture. "The old Spanish hidalgoes who warred with the Central American states did not consider the country around San Jose (reached then by a bridle path over the mountains) worth fighting for.

"So they left the natives in possession and the consequence is that the peon, or barefooted native, driving his yoke or diminutive oxen, is nobody's slave. He owns his mule and cart, his little patio of land and farmhouse. The tax gatherer has no place there, therefore when you meet him reincarnated as the dignified merchant he is a most self-respecting citizen.

"A dinner of fifty covers, with three kinds of wine, was tendered a foreign diplomat during our stay at the Hotel Imperial. When they were all seated and the dinner well on we gained a coign of vantage where we were not seen, and I aver that a woman's suffrage luncheon in New York city was a hilarious affair in comparison to it. Yet nearly every man present had been educated in Europe.

Climate Failed—Medicine Cured

It has been absolutely shown that rest, fresh air, and good food do help many persons suffering from Tuberculosis. But, to be really honest, it must be admitted that the disease is seldom more than "arrested." Something more is needed.

Eckman's Alterative is a medicine made for the cure of Tuberculosis. It has cured this disease again and again. Often these cures have been effected where the surroundings were not ideal, where no intelligent care was taken of the patient, where money was scarce; good food and [illegible] unusual—yet cures resulted. Now we argue and urge that Eckman's Alterative should be used in every case of Tuberculosis, in addition to good, nourishing food and fresh air, which we all need.

The facts—the evidence of cures that have been made—are interesting reading. A remarkable cure follows.—Weldon, Ill.

"Gentlemen:—Through Eckman's Alterative I have been saved from a premature grave, and, feeling that I might benefit suffering humanity, I take pleasure in writing you a brief history of my sickness, which you are at liberty to use.

"On December 14, 1904, I was taken with Typhoid Pneumonia. My lungs became very much affected; my sputum was examined and Tuberculosis Bacilli were found. On February 21st, 1905, was advised to go to Fort Worth, Texas. While there an abscess in my right lung broke and discharged. I grew worse, and became very much emaciated. My physician informed me that I must go to Colorado as quickly as possible. I left Texas June 1st, and arrived in Canon City June 3d, very feeble. After being there two weeks, my physician informed me that nothing could be done, as my case was hopeless. Three weeks later I returned home, weighing 103 pounds, the doctor having given me no assurance of reaching there alive.

Brain Drill With Fingers.

Brain drill with the fingers is the latest recommendation to those who would be efficient. It is not a system of massage that is recommended, but simply the regular use of the hands. Tie knots, sew, do fretwork, anything and everything, in fact, that calls for manual skill you want to have an active, resourceful and versatile brain, people are told. The truth of this statement is said to lie in the fact that in every manual act the hand is directed by the brain. Every act reacts upon the brain, strengthening and stimulating it.

The Moon on Fish.

A recent report of the Scotch fishery board mentioned a curious habit which, according to fishermen, is associated with fish; the phases of the moon, it was asserted, have a very direct connection with the willingness of fish to be netted.

To test this theory statistics were obtained of the catch of herrings from 1860 to 1900, with the result that the biggest catches were found to have coincided with the new moon and the smallest with full moon. The report suggested that a full moon enabled the nets to be seen much more easily than at times of new moon or the crescent phase or that the tides, which vary with the lunar phases, were possible factors in the matter.—Westminister Gazette.

WHY WOMEN GO TO PRISON

Most of Them Err Through Idleness, Unwise Marriages, Ignorance, Youth and Friendliness.

The causes that bring women to prison are seldom of personal or even of direct moral significance. Women seldom use their wits to break the law, nor do most of their crimes demand a quick intelligence. They are in the main the result of a lack of training in trades, inconsidered marriages, ignorance, youth, friendlessness, the general unguided condition of girls; non-employment, low wages, overcrowding in tenements, nervous tension, and the high-pressure life of the average female factory employe. These and other like causes produce the so-called artificial offenses, such as inebriety, unruliness and minor breaches of the law which are mostly the result of overstrain. It has often been said that the barometer of crime rises as that of prosperity falls, and this is particularly true as regards the crimes of women. The thousands of women factory workers in every manufacturing city are never more than a few days from actual want. Given a period of overproduction or a depression in trade, and the women's prisons fill with these despairing, idle workers. In New England, when the factories are running with a full force of operatives, there is a decided slump in the prison population, for all goes well with even these weaker spirits so long as they earn enough to eat every day and have a place to sleep every night.—From "The Care of Women in State Prisons," by Jeanne Robert, in the American Review of Reviews.

An Englishman's Retort.

He had just arrived from old England and his friend, a prominent clubman, was showing him the city. In our suburbs they noticed a neatly fixed-up candy store, which greatly surprised the stranger, and he inquired how that could be made to pay. The clubman remarked in answer:

"Why, I don't believe he can make his salt there."

The Englishman seemed bewildered, and adjusting his monocle, said:

"How strange! Do you expect a man in this country to make salt in a sweet shop?"

Haw! Haw!

Shifting Ministers.

One of Wesley's reasons for shifting his preachers every three years was avowedly that they might be able to preach the same sermon over again to different congregations. He knew by experience the difficulty of sermon making. After a few weeks, he said, a preacher cannot find matter for preaching every morning and evening, nor will the people come to hear him, whereas if he never stays more than a fortnight in one place he will find plenty of matter, and the people will hear him gladly. I know that were I to preach one whole year in one place I should preach both myself and my congregation to sleep.

OLD FASHIONED FAMILY PEW

In That Rested the Strength of the Church, and It Should Be Restored.

One sometimes hears a deal of nonsense about the danger of creating a prejudice against religion in the mind of a child by making him attend church once a week. The danger would seem to be about one-tenth as great as that of arousing a prejudice against education by sending him to school twice a day. In both cases the remedy lies in the good sense of the parents and their estimate of the value of religion and education carefully instilled into the child's mind.

The strength of the church has been in the old-fashioned pew, with father at one end and mother at the other, and a stairway of more or less restless children. From that pew have gone out the upright, devout, consecrated men and women who have loved the church and maintained her worship and done her work in their several generations. For the sake of the church, and especially for the sake of the children, let it be restored.

If it be impossible for the children to attend both Sunday school and the church service, this writer would by all means teach them the catechism at home and bring them to church that they may learn to worship God in the congregation of his people.—Southern Churchman.

Valuable Jamaican Woods.

The most valuable of the Jamaican woods are the yaca, the bully tree, ironwood, hahoe, juniper, cedar, mahogany, lignum vitae, ebony, fiddlewood, yoke, prickly yellow, broad leaf, soapwood, cashew and calabash. Hardwood is used principally for railway sleepers, telegraph poles and fence posts, cedars used chiefly for native shingles and furniture, and other woods are used in building houses in the highlands. Unfortunately the streams are not large enough to log them to the coast, but there is no reason why portable engines and sawmills should not be utilized so as to turn these woods into the market.
